

Cantina Pizzolato Fields Organic Prosecco Brut, Italy

Cantina Pizzolato Fields Organic Prosecco Brut, Italy

May 17, 2018 |

Posted by Julien Miquel |

International Wine Reviews

Score: 86/100

Overall Tasting Notes & Impressions

A pleasing organic Prosecco bubbly to look at, with its shiny and bright pale lemon-yellow color, but also to smell as it features zesty aromas of lime and lemon with touches of floral character from honeysuckle and elderflower.

The palate is smooth in a dry and crisp style with mineral acidity providing a refreshing feel. Hints of residual sugars with fine bubbles come with smooth phenolics adding a food-demanding grip to the finish.

A well-executed organic Prosecco wine, dry, zesty and well balanced, clean aromas and flavors, and that drinks seamless in a pleasing sipping experience.

Enjoy 😊

Julien Miquel

More information about Organic Prosecco on theorganicprosecco.com

Read more about Organic Prosecco at 4 Reasons to Choose an Organic Prosecco Wine:

Learn more with our Prosecco Sparkling Wine – Complete Infographic Guide:

Pizzolato Fields Brut Prosecco Label Images

